

CHINA MAIL

THE WEATHER: Moderate S. winds, falling light this evening. Fair.

No. 37095

TUESDAY, JULY 8, 1958.

Price 20 Cents

RELAX IN DAKS
THE FAMOUS COMFORT IN ACTION TROUSERS
Whiteaways HONGKONG & KOWLOON

COMMENT OF THE DAY

Water Hours

THE seriousness of the Colony's water situation has been fully outlined in the last fortnight and there can be no criticism of today's decision to restrict water hours. These new arrangements will undoubtedly cause much hardship, particularly in homes with big families, but rainfall so far has fallen far below expectations and measures must be taken to ensure the winter "stockpile."

Each year in determining supply hours at the beginning of the wet season Government has to gamble on the prospect of good falls. The risks are carefully calculated but if, because of unpredictable forces involved, calculations are later upset by less than hoped for rain, policy must be altered to safeguard supplies for future months.

Exception

ANNUAL statistics show that as below-average rainfall is the exception, a policy of optimism is best and the Colony derives the most benefit from it. There should therefore be no grumbles when rain falls short of expectations and midsummer alterations to supply hours are necessary.

This is the position with the Colony's water supply this year. We have less than 3,500 million gallons in hand. There are 84 days of the "wet season" left. If we get only average rainfall between now and the beginning of October, supply will increase by about another 9,000 million gallons, giving a total of 12,600 million gallons. To continue with a ten-hour supply and a consumption rate of 65 million gallons a day the Colony would begin the dry season with about 7,000 million gallons, possibly less.

The Hope

THIS supply would then have to last us about 212 days through the dry winter months until late April. If average winter rainfall yields us another 2,400 million gallons the Colony would have about 9,400 million gallons for the seven winter months. But provision also has to be made for the possibility that the wet season next year may not begin on time. To play safe 2,000 million gallons need to be kept for May of next year. This cuts winter supply down to 7,000 million gallons — or 33 million gallons a day — or about 2½ hours supply. If rainfall continues below average, however, even this storage could not be attained.

The Future

THUS by reducing consumption now by 15 million gallons a day, the Colony stands to be better off by some 1,275 million gallons by the beginning of the dry season which may allow a consumption of another six million gallons a day during the winter months. This may mean the difference between a four-hour and a 2½-hour supply.

On present figures and prospects it would be wrong to encourage hopes of an increase in water hours later this summer. Before this can be considered, the Colony will need something like a repetition of the heavy rains which swept Hongkong in midsummer last year. On the other hand if rainfall continues to lag seriously below average, further cuts this summer cannot be discounted.

WATER CUT TO 5 HOURS

Zoning System To Be Reintroduced

CONSERVATION NEEDED

Hours of water supply will be cut to five hours daily as from this Thursday.

Simultaneously with the reduction of hours, the zoning system of supplying water — whereby half the community receives water in the morning and the other half in the evening — will be reintroduced.

The morning supply period will be from 6 a.m. to 11 a.m. and the afternoon period from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. Details of water supply areas both in Hongkong and Kowloon will be made available later today.

The present supply of ten hours in two periods will be given throughout the Colony tomorrow.

The cut in supply hours was forecast by a Government spokesman last weekend. The Water Authority has advised that because of the steady loss in storage in the reservoirs and the lack of rain, existing supplies should be conserved as much as possible since even if the rains do come, much more than normal yield will be required to fill the reservoirs before the advent of the dry winter season.

Storage in the reservoirs at 8 o'clock this morning stood at 3,415 million gallons, representing a net loss of 116 million gallons since Saturday.

Bertrand Russell Pleads For Peace

London, July 7. Bertrand Russell, the philosopher, has sent telegrams of protest to Mr Ferenc Muenich, the Hungarian Prime Minister, and Mr Nikita Khrushchev, the Soviet Prime Minister, against the trial of Mrs Gyula Rajk, widow of the former Hungarian Minister. It was announced here today.

Saying a condemnation of Mrs Rajk and others who are being tried with her would be "a blow to peace movements everywhere," he implored Mr Muenich to secure their acquittal.

He asked Mr Khrushchev to use his influence to the same purpose.

Mrs Rajk's husband was executed as a Titoist but later rehabilitated. She was in the party when she took refuge with the Prime Minister, Mr Imre Nagy, in the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest in November 1956.

Ipooh, July 7. A Malay political party — the Peninsula Malays Union — today called on the government to ban all forms of gambling, alcohol and narcotics.

The 28 delegates at the Party's annual conference said they thought national revenue from these sources was "unfair."

Horse racing, especially the meetings agreed, should be stopped immediately. —Reuter.

Following the second subcommittee meeting of the day, Mr Shackleton and Anderson on two occasions during the past week had obtained rooms next to those occupied by Goldfine's family. But he said Shackleton testified today that he did not record any conversations on these three occasions. Asked if Shackleton

INVESTIGATORS ACCUSED OF GESTAPO SNOOP

Washington, July 7. House Influence investigators today dismissed a staff aide who was caught with a hidden microphone early today eavesdropping on the hotel room of Bernard Goldfine's new press agent.

The committee also called on the Justice Department, the FBI and the District of Columbia Police Department to conduct a full investigation of "all phases" of the matter.

The chairman, Oren Harris, told a news conference his subcommittee voted unanimously to accept the resignation of Baron I. Shackleton, the subcommittee aide involved in the episode.

The announcement came shortly after Goldfine's lawyers said they "have reason to believe" that Shackleton had "eavesdropped" and recorded confidential conversation between them and their client since June 29.

Attorney Roger Robb and two colleagues demanded copies of "all such recordings" and reports on any Goldfine conversations Shackleton had overheard at the Sheraton-Carlton Hotel since that date.

*****

Sherman Goldfine

Joins A

Pair Of Donkeys

Benton Harbour, Michigan, July 7. A female victim named "Sherman Goldfine" joined a pair of donkeys, "Harry" and "Bessie," today in the Ccell Potz Zoo here.

"Sherman Goldfine's" father and mother are about 80 per cent Vicuna—a cross breed Vicuna-Llama.—UPI.

*****

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door of Goldfine's newly-hired Public Relations man, Jack Letts.

Robb said they had "documentary" proof Shackleton had been there, once even next door to Goldfine's suite.

The 48-year-old Shackleton, the subcommittee's chief investigator, and Jack Anderson, an assistant to Goldfine's lawyer, Drex Pearson, were found in a hotel last night with a microphone under the door

CABLE BRIEFS

Milwaukee, July 7.
Josef von Suskovic was to leave for Ronneby, Sweden, today to marry his pen-pal sweetheart.
Von Suskovic is 60. They've been corresponding for 52 years.—U.P.I.

Chicago, July 7.
Larry Reed, 16, hooked a 19-pound carp that has been eluding fishermen at a park lagoon. His bait: peanut butter balls, mixed with flour and corn meal.—U.P.I.

Salem, July 7.
Guglio Di Florio is in a bind, looking for the customer who left a neatly-wrapped package in his bar.
Di Florio hopes the customer was a medical student. The package contained a skull.—U.P.I.

Tampa, Florida, July 7.
Jim Fair may not be playing safe when he begins his campaign to defeat elderly Jerry Carter or a member of the State Railroad and Public Utilities Commission.
The young businessman intends to prove his physical fitness for the post by campaigning on a bicycle.—U.P.I.

Niagara Falls, July 7.
Charles von Valkenburg testified in court yesterday that he saw Wilfred Brown and Richard Dupont break into a jeweller's store.
Van Valkenburg had reason to remember the store. He was convicted of breaking into it three years ago.—U.P.I.

Gulfport, Ga., July 7.
Quinton is a friendly town, instead of issuing tickets to parking violators, police leave on windshields pink slips reading:

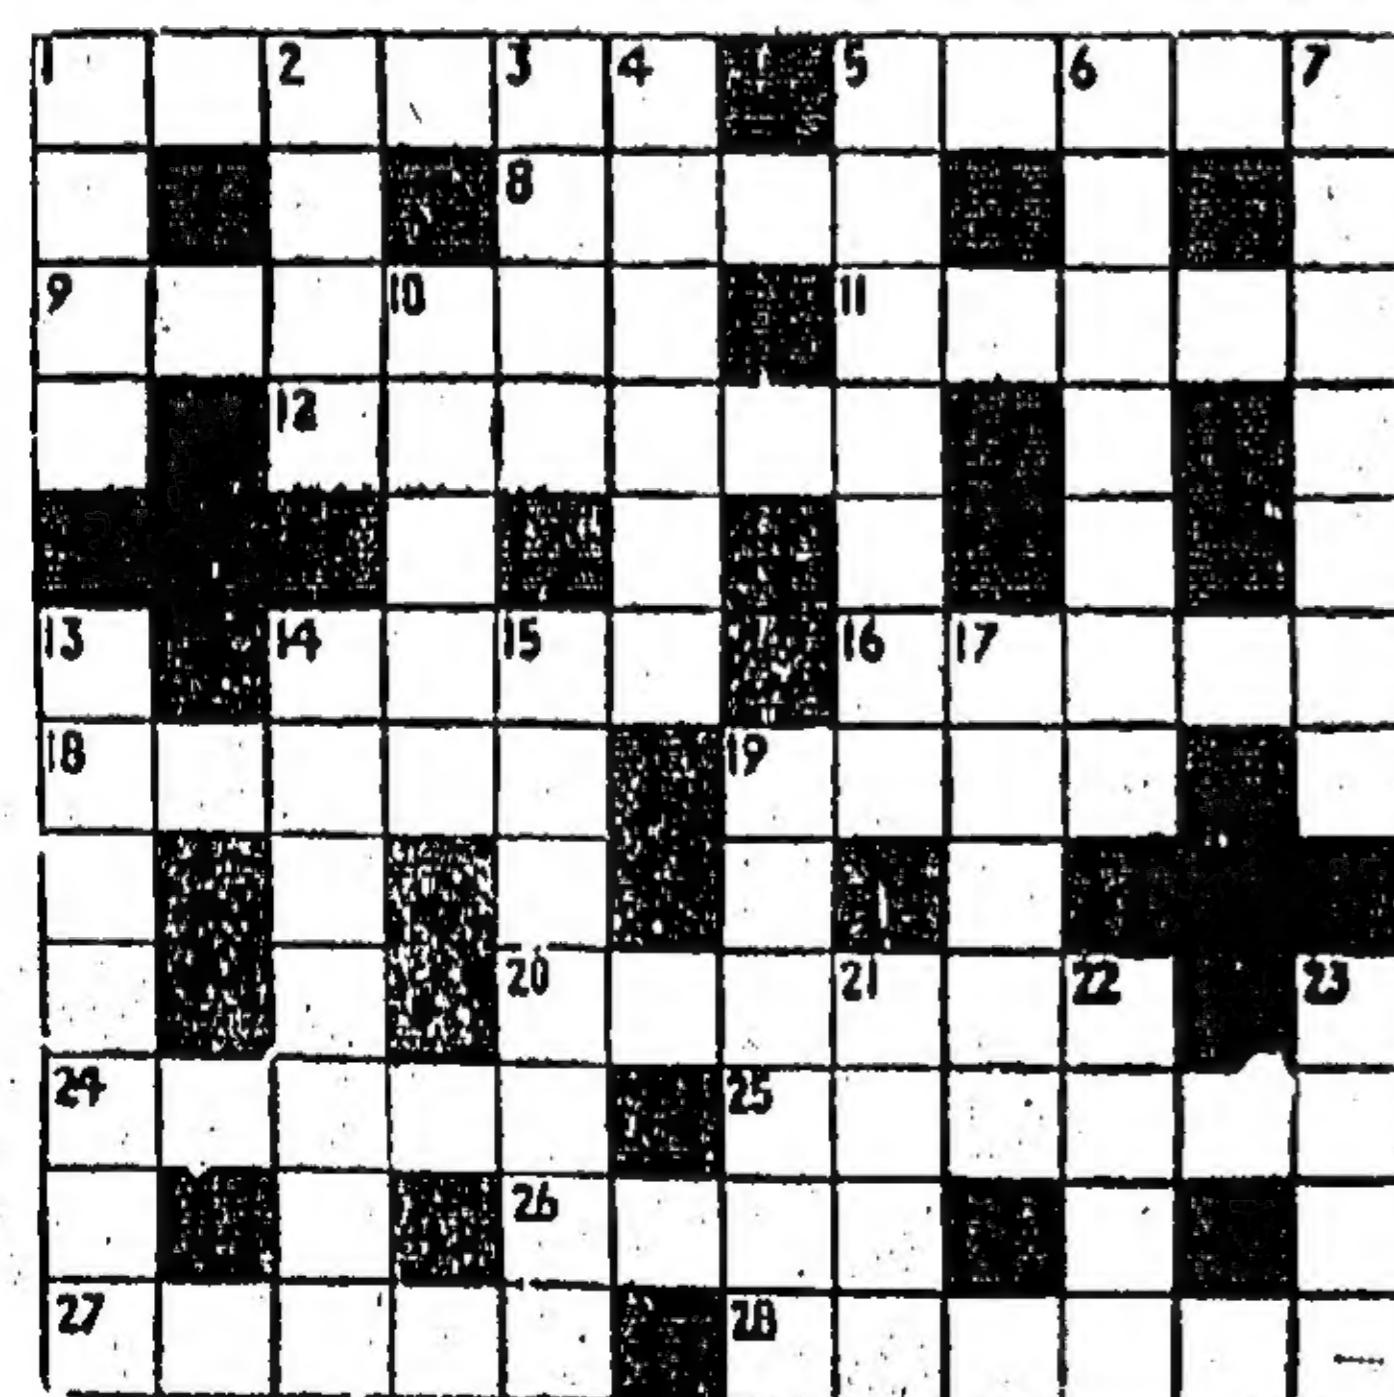

"Hi, neighbour. You have overparked. Will you please deposit five cents in meter before you leave. Appreciate your visit and come to see us again."

—U.P.I.

Milan, July 7.
Two teenage girls, wearing tight pants and only one shoe got off a train last night in a huff.
Seems an unidentified man sitting opposite them on the train began muttering about girls in pants, then leaned forward, pulled off a shoe from each girl, and heaved them out the window.—U.P.I.

Spartanburg, SC., July 7.
The Craft State Park swimming pool was back in use today, and officials were keeping a close watch on the drain valve.

A prankster "pulled the plug" on the pool during the week-end and swimmers had to wait nine hours for it to refill.—U.P.I.

A British Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS
1 Got a move on (9).
5 It's embraces a student! (5).
9 Sintful going-on (4).
10 Possible National winner (9).
11 word a starter for the Oiks! (5).
12 Put fresh life into (6).
14 Musically associated with "down" (4).
15 Personal requirements? (5).
18 The social round? (5).
19 Growing support (4).
20 That's frank! (5).
24 Possibly religious aren't (5).
25 Pliggish (5).
26 Fencing implement (4).
27 Feur (5).
28 Goen en masse (5).

MONDAY'S CROSSWORD—Across: 1 Solts, 4 (Brussels), Sprout, 8 Hooker, 10 Stern, 12 Armour, 14 Malaria, 17 Role, 19 Internal, 20 Conist, 22 Heel, 23 Tin-in-h, 27 Serene, 29 Litre, 30 Golare, 31 Inrush, 32 Style, 33 Dovet, 1 Scrum, 2 Local, 3 Shear, 5 Peal, 6 Oberon, 7 Tuncl, 9 Trieste, 11 Turret, 13 Matting, 15 Aloof, 16 Antler, 18 Lown, 20 Chilli, 21 Nestor, 24 Nears, 26 Iron-y, 28 Geeta, 29 (Dal)Rees.

Fear Of Unauthorised Dropping Of A-Bombs

UK Minister Assures Nation

PRECAUTIONS ENTIRELY ADEQUATE'

London, July 7.
The Secretary for Air, Mr George Ward, said today that normal precautions were "entirely adequate" against the unauthorised dropping of atom bombs.

A Labour MP, Mr Geoffrey de Freitas, had asked in the House of Commons about the security arrangements for preventing the unauthorised dropping of atom bombs in the North Sea.

Mr de Freitas asked why the Air Ministry did not immediately issue a statement pointing out that the security arrangements at the R.A.F. bases used as American bases were such that "the alleged threat by the alleged American aircraft, if not impossible to carry out, was very difficult indeed."

Mr Ward said parliament had been told many times that the precautions were very thorough and that the procedures, both on the ground and in the air, needed the co-operation of a large number of people.

He is to attend the Congress of the East German Communist Party which opens here on Thursday, but may in the meantime make a trip into East Germany.

East Berlin's Ostbahnhof station is decorated with flags and a red-covered tribune has been erected in front of it.

SLOGANS

Red and white signs carrying slogans have appeared all over East Berlin, and East German police guards have been strengthened on the East-West border.

Mr Khrushchev, who is flying to a Soviet military airfield outside Berlin and joining the rest of the way by train, is expected to address the Congress on Friday or Saturday, but will also speak at a welcoming rally today.

At the Congress, the Soviet Premier may call for an extension of Russian economic ties with East Germany. A Soviet Embassy spokesman said he would also have "certain talks" with East German leaders outside the Congress.—Reuter.

Re-Infested

London, July 7.
Areas in Britain once virtually cleared of rabbits by myxomatosis are again infested, according to the annual report of the Ministry of Agriculture.—China Mail Special.

MAN GOES ON HUNGER STRIKE

London, July 7.
A 21-year-old Dublin hunger striker, Mr Liam Kelly, had spent 32 hours on a protest patrol outside the Irish Embassy here by midnight tonight.

He is protesting against the treatment of Republicans in Northern Ireland and the Irish Republic.

Mr Kelly, a painter and decorator, said "I shall walk up and down here all night. If I have to, I shall walk until I drop."

He was joined tonight by another hunger striker, Mr William Burke, 52, a machine-maintenance man from Tipperary, who now lives in London.—China Mail Special.

Cairo, July 7.
Marshal Sergi Rudenko, Soviet Air Force Chief of Staff, will arrive tomorrow for a 10-day visit at the invitation of Marshal Abd al Hakim Amer, Vice-President of the United Arab Republic and Minister of War, the Middle East Agency said today.—Reuter.

New York, July 7.
A total of 621 people were killed during Independence Day weekend in the United States. It was announced today. Road accidents accounted for 355, while 175 were drowned and 91 died in other types of accidents.—France-Presse.

London, July 7.
About 20,000 children a year, victims of broken marriages, will benefit from a bill which became law in England and Wales today with the granting of the royal assent.

The bill does two things. First, no decree, either in divorce or judicial separation, will now be made final until the court is satisfied about the future welfare of the children.

Second, a court welfare service is to be set up to assist the judge when he is faced with difficult decisions by investigating the background of the family life. Reuter.

He Found English Children Were NOT THE ANGELS HE THOUGHT

English children are not always the little angels Americans have been led to believe according to Mr Crambaugh, from Michigan in the United States.

He was one of 209 exchange Commonwealth and American teachers received by the Queen Mother, at an official garden party for them this evening.

Of his experiences—teaching in a secondary modern school near Birmingham—Mr Crambaugh told reporters:

The Big Mediterranean Build-up

Britain

ARMY

NAVY

LAND FORCES

NAVAL

AIR FORCES

DOCTOR NO

CHAPTER THREE

by Ian Fleming

WHOSE TAUT AND VIVID PEN
BROUGHT THE PUBLIC
'DIAMONDS ARE FOREVER' AND 'FROM RUSSIA WITH LOVE'

MURDERED without trace: both members of the Caribbean station of the British Secret Service. Somebody in Jamaica had good cause to be rid of them. Somebody to whom murder is an impeccably planned and almost everyday event. From London flies James Bond to start where his murdered colleagues left off....without knowing the enemy. In the true Bond manner, the way to solution seems paved with beautiful (but dangerous) girls. Another is about to enter the scene:

★★★

"HELL get you... Hell get you... Hell get you." The words of Annabel Chung were still ringing in Bond's brain the next day.

He was sitting on his balcony and gazing out across the net of tropical gardens to Kingston five miles below him.

Now he was sure that Strangways and the girl had been killed. Someone had needed to stop them looking any further into his business, so he had killed them and destroyed the records of what they were investigating.

The same person knew or suspected that the Secret Service would follow up Strangways' disappearance. Somehow he had known that Bond had been given the job.

He had wanted a picture of Bond and he had wanted to know where Bond was staying.

KAISER

RESTAURANT & COCKTAIL LOUNGE

Famous European, American, French, & Russian Cuisine.

BREAKFAST, COFFEE, LUNCH, TEA AND DINNER.

CONFETIONS & CAKES

With the grandest decoration

most comfortable accommodations

BUSINESS HOURS: 7 a.m. - 1 a.m.

21A-21B Granville Rd., Kowloon. Tel: 60335, 61611 (Corner of Carnarvon & Granville Roads)

ANY FIRM USING THE NAME

APPLIED TO OUR

"ZORIC"

-DRYCLEANING SYSTEM

HAS NO CONNECTION WHATSOEVER

WITH THE UNDERMENTIONED CO.

PLEASE TELEPHONE DIRECT TO

59195

FOR COLLECTIONS AND DELIVERIES

THE STEAM LAUNDRY CO.

No. 1, Kwong Wa Street, Kowloon.

The girl you have been waiting to meet...the way Bond first met her

"He runs that place like a fortress-resort of forced labour camp. No one ever gets off it. I've heard some funny rumours, but no one's ever complained. It's his island, of course, and he can do what he likes on it."

Bond hunted for clues. "Would it really be so valuable to him this place? What do you suppose it's worth?"

"Which reminds me," Pleydell-Smith pressed the bell, "what the hell has happened to those files? You find all the dope you want in them!"

Quarrel grinned. "Yo want fox someone?"

"That's right."

Half an hour later Bond went downstairs and took a taxi to King's House.

The Colonial Secretary was a youngish, shaggy-haired man with bright, boyish eyes.

After purring energetically at Bond's hand and waving vaguely at a chair, Pleydell-Smith walked up and down the room scratching his temple with the stem of his pipe. "Bond, Bond! Rings a bell. Now let me see. Yes, by Jove, you were the chap who was mixed up in that treasure business here. By Jove, yes! Four, five year ago. Found the file lying around only the other day. Splendid show!"

"Well, I remember distinctly him bringing them back to this room. What happened to them then?"

"Can't say, sir," the voice was unemotional. "The covers are there but there's nothing inside there."

Bond turned in his chair. He glanced at the girl and turned back. He smiled grimly to himself.

"He know where the files had gone. He also know why the old file on himself had been put on the secretary's desk. He also guessed how the particular significance of 'James Bond, Import and Export Merchant' seemed to have leaked out of King's House, the only place where the significance was known."

Like Doctor No, like Miss Annabel Chung, the demure, efficient-looking little secretary in the horn-rimmed glasses was Chinese.

Crash

"By the way, Quarrel, did those two men get off all right in the Sunbeam?"

"Sho ling, cap'n. Dey plenty happy wid de job. An' dey look plenty like yo an' me, cap'n." Quarrel chucked.

Bond laughed. "I only hope they get to Montego all right."

A soft voice said, "Yes, sir." Bond heard the door close.

A fortune

"Now then, guano," Pleydell-Smith tilted his chair back. Bond prepared to be bored. "As you know, it's bird dung. The guano, otherwise known as the green cormorant, is a machine for converting fish into guano. They mostly eat anchovies."

"At the beginning of the war this Chinaman, who must be a wily devil, by the way, got the idea that he could make a good thing out of the old guano on Crab Key."

"The price was about 50 dollars a ton on this side of the Atlantic and he bought the island from us, for about £10,000 as I recall it, brought in labour and got to work. Been working it ever since. Must have made a fortune."

"He ships direct to Europe, to Antwerp. They send him a ship once a month. He's installed the latest cranes and generators. Sweats his labour, I dare say."

"Don't yo worry," Quarrel misunderstood Bond's concern. "I say yo tell de police dey stole de car if dey don't."

"The Daily Gleaner was to report that a Sunbeam-Talbot had been involved in a fatal accident on the Devil's Racecourse, a stretch of winding road on the Kingston-Montego route. A runaway lorry, whose driver was being traced, had crashed into the Sunbeam as it came round a bend. The two occupants had been killed. But that was later..."

"Just sniff around. We needn't get too close to Doctor No's end. If we get anything wrong, we'll get away again and come back by the front door—with some soldiers to help. Have a full-dress inquiry. Can't do that until we've got something to go on."

"Under Cover of night, Bond and Quarrel paddle by canoe to the forbidden island of Crab Key."

In hiding

THE beach was black. The sand was soft and wonderful to the feet but it must have been formed out of volcanic rock, pounded over the centuries, and Bond's naked feet on it looked like white crabs.

They heaved the nose of the covered canoe to the first and pushed the boat up the rollers.

After each yard of progress Bond picked up the back rollers and brought it to the front, slowly the canoe moved up the sand until at last it was over the back tideline and among the rocks and turtle grass and low sea-grape bushes.

They made haste. Quarrel took three short lengths of thick bamboo out of the boat and laid them up the flat beach.

They pushed it another 20 yards inland into the beginning of the mangrove. There they lay down full length in the sand and rested, his head on his arm.

He Awoke

BOND twoko jazzy. The feel of the sand reminded him where he was. He glanced at his watch. Ten o'clock. The sun through the round leaves of the sea-grape was already hot. A large shadow moved across the dappled sand in front of his face. Quarrel Bond shifted his head and peered through the fringe of leaves and grass that concealed him from the beach. He stiffened. His heart missed a beat and then began pounding so that he had to breathe deeply to quieten it.

It was a naked girl, with her back to him. She stood not more than five yards away on the tideline looking down at something in her hand. She stood in the classical, relaxed pose of the nude, all the weight on the right leg and the left knee bent and turning slightly inwards, the head to one side, she examined the things in her

Tomorrow:

THE NAME IS

HONEY

AND LET'S

BE FRIENDS

DOCTOR NO WILL BE PUBLISHED SHORTLY BY JONATHAN CAPE

"Please can we have our ball?"

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Which Line Of Play
Is Best?

By OSWALD JACOBY

EACH year the Association of Playing Card Manufacturers conducts an Intercollegiate Bridge Championship in which the students play 16 selected hands with certain pairs.

In today's hand North and South must get to six diamonds and then make it.

West opens the ten of spades. How would you play the hand?

You win the ace of spades of course. You might next play king, ace and a small club and ruff low in dummy. This wins unless the second club is ruffed or the third club overruffed. As an alternate you might ruff the club high. This will work unless you now run into all four diamonds in the

NORTH (D)		27
♦A	J9 8 7 5 4
♥A 8
♦K 3
♦K 4
WEST		EAST
♦10		♦K Q 2
♦KJ 10 7 4		♦Q 9 8 2
♦8		♦10 9 4
♦AQ J 6 5 3 2		♦10 7
SOUTH
♦A 6 3
♦6 5
♦A Q 9 7 5 2
♦A 9 8
Both vulnerable
North	East	South West
1 ♠ Pass	2 ♠ Pass	Pass
3 ♠ Pass	4 ♠ Pass	Pass
5 ♠ Pass	6 ♠ Pass	Pass
Pass	Pass	Pass
Opening lead—♦A 10

same hand and is a slightly better line of play than the preceding.

If you now look at the East-West cards you will see that the first line of play loses and the second line wins.

However, you should have adopted a third line that would win against any combination of cards once West followed to the spade lead. Your partner then plays to draw trumps and lead your last spade. You still have two entries to dummy. You get in the first time in order to ruff a spade and the second time in order to discard your losing club on a spade which will have been established by that time.

CARD Sender

Q.—The bidding has been:
East South West North
1 ♠ Double Pass 1 ♥
Pass 2 ♠
You, South, hold:
♦AQ 10 6 5 ♦K 5 4 ♦A 8 7 4 3
What do you do?

A.—Bid one spade. Your hand is worth another bid and your partner may only have four little hearts.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner raises your one spade bid to two. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

SIDE GLANCES

THE CHEMISE

THE chemise won't last long because it caught on "too fast," says a designer of unique dresses.

THE GAMES

Women used to dress to please their men. Now they dress only to please themselves. They've stopped looking like girls," said Mrs Jeannette Pave. She designs "festa" dresses, or squaw-style fashions adapted from Indian wear.

"The chemise caught on too fast to last," she said. "If a style is different, some women will buy it for that reason. Of course, the chemise can be lovely, but it takes a perfect figure to wear it. But then, the figure can't be seen," she added.

A Hobby

The Polish-born artist-designer, 46, closed down what was left of her Warsaw dress design firm during World War II. She arrived in America in 1944. Seven years ago, she began to adapt the ancient Indian-style squash dresses of velvet to lightweight fabrics.

The business began as a hobby. Then her friends ordered the dresses. Now she sells the outfit in 48 states, Canada and Europe.

"My big moment came last summer," said this defender of the well-outlined shape. "People on the Italian and French coasts raved about these American dresses."

(London Express Service).

YOUR BIRTHDAY ... By STELLA
TUESDAY, JULY 8

BORN today, you are a bold, calculating individual and have a keen sense for business. You have a keen understanding of people and are able to judge them quickly. This gives you a head start in any enterprise. The stars have given you artistic talent, which will be developed if you take a chance to express it. You make a career out of the arts. You are not one to stay in an attic for long. You sell your art to others and are satisfied with their reactions. Those who enjoy your art are those born on this date.

Another woman member of the staff, Miss Vivienne Bandau, designed 1965 Commemoration medals in bronze.

The Victory Medal, in silver gilt and bronze, shows two sprays of daffodils and a victor's crown of laurel leaves.

Each of the 430 Victory medals will be engraved with the winner's name.

(London Express Service).

WEDNESDAY, JULY 9

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—At day with some difficulties, so keep everything well under control. Have a steady income, but don't be afraid to draw funds from your savings.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 23)—Avoid risk-taking of any nature whatsoever just now. Don't be in a hurry to make a decision, as this may bring you trouble.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Don't be afraid to take risks, but don't be afraid to take a short trip.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Don't let off steam and don't let go of your hair. Give yourself a good wash and impulse do not pay today.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)—Be truly considerate. You will find your social contacts also increase your business potential.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22)—You may be pushed into a position of pre-arrangement and the results may be other than you expected.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 20)—Avoid any possible risk-taking, for this is not a day for adventures.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 20)—This is a day for careful planning.

PIRATES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)—Your partner is more than usually talkative, but curb your impatience, and things too quickly can cause trouble.

(London Express Service).

Keep your own counsel, for talking too much will bring you into trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Be practical on matters involving children, and be conservative.

CELESTINE (Jan. 21-Jan. 20)—A short trip may settle details.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)—Your partner is more than usually talkative, but curb your impatience, and things too quickly can cause trouble.

(London Express Service).

Keep your own counsel, for talking too much will bring you into trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Be practical on matters involving children, and be conservative.

CELESTINE (Jan. 21-Jan. 20)—A short trip may settle details.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)—Your partner is more than usually talkative, but curb your impatience, and things too quickly can cause trouble.

(London Express Service).

Keep your own counsel, for talking too much will bring you into trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Be practical on matters involving children, and be conservative.

CELESTINE (Jan. 21-Jan. 20)—A short trip may settle details.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)—Your partner is more than usually talkative, but curb your impatience, and things too quickly can cause trouble.

(London Express Service).

Keep your own counsel, for talking too much will bring you into trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Be practical on matters involving children, and be conservative.

CELESTINE (Jan. 21-Jan. 20)—A short trip may settle details.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)—Your partner is more than usually talkative, but curb your impatience, and things too quickly can cause trouble.

(London Express Service).

Keep your own counsel, for talking too much will bring you into trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Be practical on matters involving children, and be conservative.

CELESTINE (Jan. 21-Jan. 20)—A short trip may settle details.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)—Your partner is more than usually talkative, but curb your impatience, and things too quickly can cause trouble.

(London Express Service).

Keep your own counsel, for talking too much will bring you into trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Be practical on matters involving children, and be conservative.

CELESTINE (Jan. 21-Jan. 20)—A short trip may settle details.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)—Your partner is more than usually talkative, but curb your impatience, and things too quickly can cause trouble.

(London Express Service).

Keep your own counsel, for talking too much will bring you into trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Be practical on matters involving children, and be conservative.

CELESTINE (Jan. 21-Jan. 20)—A short trip may settle details.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)—Your partner is more than usually talkative, but curb your impatience, and things too quickly can cause trouble.

(London Express Service).

Keep your own counsel, for talking too much will bring you into trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Be practical on matters involving children, and be conservative.

CELESTINE (Jan. 21-Jan. 20)—A short trip may settle details.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)—Your partner is more than usually talkative, but curb your impatience, and things too quickly can cause trouble.

(London Express Service).

Keep your own counsel, for talking too much will bring you into trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Be practical on matters involving children, and be conservative.

CELESTINE (Jan. 21-Jan. 20)—A short trip may settle details.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)—Your partner is more than usually talkative, but curb your impatience, and things too quickly can cause trouble.

(London Express Service).

Keep your own counsel, for talking too much will bring you into trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Be practical on matters involving children, and be conservative.

CELESTINE (Jan. 21-Jan. 20)—A short trip may settle details.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)—Your partner is more than usually talkative, but curb your impatience, and things too quickly can cause trouble.

(London Express Service).

Keep your own counsel, for talking too much will bring you into trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Be practical on matters involving children, and be conservative.

CELESTINE (Jan. 21-Jan. 20)—A short trip may settle details.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)—Your partner is more than usually talkative, but curb your impatience, and things too quickly can cause trouble.

(London Express Service).

Keep your own counsel, for talking too much will bring you into trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Be practical on matters involving children, and be conservative.

CELESTINE (Jan. 21-Jan. 20)—A short trip may settle details.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)—Your partner is more than usually talkative, but curb your impatience, and things too quickly can cause trouble.

(London Express Service).

Keep your own counsel, for talking too much will bring you into trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Be practical on matters involving children, and be conservative.

CELESTINE (Jan. 21-Jan. 20)—A short trip may settle details.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)—Your partner is more than usually talkative, but curb your impatience, and things too quickly can cause trouble.

(London Express Service).

Keep your own counsel, for talking too much will bring you into trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Be practical on matters involving children, and be conservative.

CELESTINE (Jan. 21-Jan. 20)—A short trip may settle details.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)—Your partner is more than usually talkative, but curb your impatience, and things too quickly can cause trouble.

(London Express Service).

Keep your own counsel, for talking too much will bring you into trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Be practical on matters involving children, and be conservative.

CELESTINE (Jan. 21-Jan. 20)—A short trip may settle details.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)—Your partner is more than usually talkative, but curb your impat

THIRD TEST MATCH

Kiwis Face An Innings Defeat

168 RUNS BEHIND WITH ONE DAY'S PLAY TO GO

Milton Achieves Cricketer's Dream

Leeds, July 7. Arthur Milton, fair-haired Gloucestershire opening batsman, today achieved the dream of all cricketers when he hit a century in his first Test innings.

His dour undefeated 104 and a sparkling 113 not out by Peter May helped to put England within sight of another victory over New Zealand on the warm, sunny fourth day of the third Test here at Headingley.

The unfinished third wicket stand of 104 by the pair enabled England to declare soon after tea at 267 for two wickets—a lead of 200 runs over New Zealand, who were shot out for 67 on Saturday, after two-and-a-half days had been lost through rain.

Again Broke Down

The battling of New Zealand, who lost the first two Tests in the five-match series, again broke down in their second innings.

By the close they had scored 32 for three wickets and with one day left they need 108 more runs to avert an innings defeat.

Milton may have solved England's big opening bat problem, which has worried the selectors who must shortly choose England's team to tour Australia next winter.

With 100 in such sparkling form, Milton had no need to hurry, and he showed the determination and coolness which will be required in Australia.

At the age of 30 Milton has 11 years of county cricket experience behind him and is used to the big match environment from his years as a footballer with Arsenal. He played in one soccer match for England.

Batting for four hours, 50 minutes for his hundred, which included 11 fours, Milton became the first Englishman for ten years to hit a century in a Test debut.

Majestic Century

May, without doubt one of the greatest batsmen in the world today, timed his strokes superbly and his majestic control completed in two hours, 40 minutes off 139 balls received, was his ninth in Test cricket.

He has now hit three centuries against South Africa and the West Indies, two against Australia and one against New Zealand.

The pitch had appeared fairly docile when England batted, the ball coming on to the bat slowly. But when New Zealand began their unenviable task of trying to hold out for

New Zealand Cricketer Bereaved

Leeds, July 7. Henry Cave, vice-captain of the touring New Zealand cricket team, learned here today of the sudden death of his mother at home.

He is the third New Zealander to suffer in this way since the start of the tour.

John D'Arcy, while playing at Derby, lost his father, and John Hayes heard of the death of his father while in Manchester. —China Mail Special.

A STUDY OF STYLE &amp; CONCENTRATION

The above photo of Althea Gibson (right) and Angela Mortimer (left) presents an interesting study of the execution of the forehand stroke by both players and the concentration they displayed in their Wimbledon women's singles final last Saturday.

Althea Gibson won the final by 8-6, 6-2.—Reuterphoto.

Softball Summer League 'Goose' Wong Celebrates Return To Game By Pacing CAA To 7-5 Win

By "TIME-OUT"

Two-times MVP winner "Goose" Wong returned to the CAA camp after an absence of six long years and celebrated the occasion by pacing the Athletics to a 7-5 victory over the hitherto unbeaten Angels in an exciting summer League softball game at King's Park yesterday.

Wong displayed only flashes of his pitching brilliance but it was enough. Showing a lot of speed and control he had the Angels swinging lustily but futilely.

However, he had still to learn how to field a bunted ball. He gave up six hits and appeared rattled when the Angels started to bunt but recovered his composure after a pep talk with catcher Harry Lee.

The Athletics took a 2-0 lead early in the game when C. C. Wong rang up the initial run on a fumble by catcher Cyrene Caldas.

C. W. Chang accounted for the second run when Bosco Kwok was safe on a fielder's choice.

FOUR MORE RUNS

The winners after holding the Angels scoreless in the second frame added four more runs on the scoreboard, when their opponents made three successive infield blunders and "Goose" Wong sent liner past

When the top of the fourth inning opened, the Angels with a sole hit off Wong decided to change tactics. The Athletics' infield got completely tied up when the opposition started laying down bunts which "Goose" found difficultly in fielding.

He is the third New Zealander to suffer in this way since the start of the tour.

John D'Arcy, while playing at Derby, lost

his father, and John

Hayes heard of the death of his father

while in Manchester.

—China Mail Special.

Malaya's Team For Empire Games Leave

Kuala-Lumpur, July 7. Malaya's three-man Empire Games team left here today for Cardiff.

They are weightlifters Tan Kim-See and Chung Kun-wing, and 400 metres runner Rahim Ahmad.

Tan, a middle heavyweight, was a bronze medallist at the recent Asian Games in Tokyo, and gained sixth place at the Melbourne Olympics in 1956.

For Chung, a featherweight, the Empire Games will be his first international venture. But he has been lifting totals of up to 710 lbs recently, and is looked upon as a gold medal prospect by local experts.

Rahim Ahmad took a bronze medal at Tokyo, and athlete union officials believe he will qualify for the 400 metres final.—Reuter.

Ban On Motor Racing Urged

Rome, July 7. A socialist senator today urged the Italian government to take international action in the effort to have motor-racing banned even on closed circuits because it "constituted a tragic danger to drivers and spectators."

Senator Giuliana Nenni, leader of the leftwing socialist party, asked the Prime Minister and the Foreign Minister at the Senate whether the government planned to take measures in the international field, particularly in Europe, for the abolition of speed racing.—China Mail Special.

"Goose" Wong was undoubtedly the hero of this game. His performance was in sharp contrast to that of the first base umpire whose decisions on some of the plays were, to put it mildly, somewhat odd.

Ban On Motor Racing Urged

Within striking distance at 4-6 the Angels rallied with a run in the top of the sixth but with the tieing run on second base Wong struck out lefty Robert Remedios on a lightning third strike to kill the rally.

With two down David Viera knocked a fast pitch to left to drive in two runs and Viera himself accounted for run number four when Onofre Soun's hot grounder was picked up and relayed wildly to first base.

A brief consultation with catcher Harry Lee after calling for "time out" steadied Wong. With two men on Wong got Robert Remedios to pop up for the third out to end the inning.

The Athletics took a 2-0 lead early in the game when C. C. Wong rang up the initial run on a fumble by catcher Cyrene Caldas.

C. W. Chang accounted for the second run when Bosco Kwok was safe on a fielder's choice.

FOUR MORE RUNS

The winners after holding the Angels scoreless in the second frame added four more runs on the scoreboard, when their opponents made three successive infield blunders and "Goose" Wong sent liner past

When the top of the fourth inning opened, the Angels with a sole hit off Wong decided to change tactics. The Athletics' infield got completely tied up when the opposition started laying down bunts which "Goose" found difficultly in fielding.

He is the third New Zealander to suffer in this way since the start of the tour.

John D'Arcy, while playing at Derby, lost

his father, and John

Hayes heard of the death of his father

while in Manchester.

—China Mail Special.

Tour De France

BELGIAN RIDER WINS 12th STAGE AFTER COVERING EXTRA 12 Kms.

Dax, July 7.

Belgium's Martin Van Geneugten sprinted magnificently here to win today's 12th stage of the Tour De France on a sodden cinder track.

This was Van Geneugten's second stage win—he was victorious before in the second leg at St Brieuc on a concrete track.

He covered the 101 kilometres in four hours, 11 minutes and 19 seconds. With a one minute bonus for first place, his official lap time was 4 hours, 10 minutes, 19 seconds.

The Belgian won today after a misunderstanding which caused him and his team-mates to cover an extra 12 kilometres. He and his team-mates, Flankert, Hoevenaars, Luyten, Vlaeyen, Fore and Braekart rode to Talence near Bordeaux and were shocked to find nobody there.

They paid the penalty for not reading the Tour bulletin by having to return as fast as they could to the town centre of the finish, with France's Jean Gaigne in second place.

With hard mountain country ahead, the Spaniards are expected to make a bid for the lead, especially as they are near their home country—France—Prese.

Not Spectacular

It was not a spectacular race today. At the 37th kilometre, Hollands' Van Den Bent made a valiant bid to break away from the pack. At the 100th kilometre the leading riders put on pressure. But the average speed today was just in excess of 30 kilometres an hour and for the first time the riders were behind schedule time.

Through the monotonous pine woods roads of the Landes, the Tour continued to keep a steady and uninspiring pace. It was not until the 124th kilometre that Van Geneugten increased his pace, followed swiftly by team-mate Hoevenaars and the Spaniard Galdeno.

At the Oval: Kent 143 and 18 for no wicket, Surrey 278 for eight declared, R. Pratt 66, E. A. Bedser 43).

At Portsmouth: Cambridge University 255 for seven declared and 252 for two. Hampshire 314 for six declared. (J. Gray 73, H. Horton 61, D. B. Marshall 70).

At Eastbourne: D. H. Jardine's XI 176 and 42 for four. Oxford University 288. (I. Gibson 66, R. Corran 52, R. Jowett 55).

At Chesterfield: Yorkshire 181, (K. Taylor 40, A. Morgan 56 for 60). Derbyshire 85 for three.

At Hove: Essex 328 and 80 declared. (A. Oakman 100, K. Suttle 180).

At KCC: L. A. Marques and A. B. Marques (Rec) v R. C. Sales, Jr., and F. X. M. Silva (Rec).

WEDNESDAY, JULY 16

At KBGC: L. M. Silva and R. Tay (CCC) v J. V. Luz and F. G. Luz (Rec).

FRIDAY, JULY 18

At RDC: N. F. Fahy and C. B. Rounsefell (KBGC) or L. M. Neves and R. M. V. Ribeiro (FRC); D. C. Symons and E. R. Kermani (KCC).

Dates and venues of the following matches will be announced later:

J. Bridgett and T. P. Ross (KBGC) or A. H. Seemin and U. A. Rundtahn (IRC) v M. J. Rull and V. Ribeiro (FRC); H. Black and P. B. Gardner (TC) or N. Brynn and E. Lonsdale (PRC) v V. C. Both and A. L. G. Eastman (KBGC).

OPEN SINGLES

The following arrangements are made of outstanding third round matches which will start at 5.30 p.m.:

MONDAY, JULY 14

At HKCC: R. M. Hetherington (USRC) v A. H. Seemin (IRC).

TUESDAY, JULY 15

At KBGC: G. Mohr (FRC) v G. C. Coles and W. M. Davidson (KC).

At CCC: E. T. Poynor (HKPSA) v S. H. Marvin and P. Melville (PRC).

At KDC: K. Brady and T. Kavanagh (KBGC) v P. H. Shaw and F. O. Madar (CCC); R. G. Hopkins and T. Cotton (FC) v G. A. Gutierrez and J. E. Noronha (Rec).

At KCC: L. A. Marques and A. B. Marques (Rec) v R. C. Sales, Jr., and F. X. M. Silva (Rec).

WEDNESDAY, JULY 16

At HKCC: L. M. Silva and R. Tay (CCC) v J. V. Luz and F. G. Luz (Rec).

FRIDAY, JULY 18

At RDC: N. F. Fahy and C. B. Rounsefell (KBGC) or L. M. Neves and R. M. V. Ribeiro (FRC); D. C. Symons and E. R. Kermani (KCC).

Dates and venues of the following matches will be announced later:

J. Bridgett and T. P. Ross (KBGC) or A. H. Seemin and U. A. Rundtahn (IRC) v M. J. Rull and V. Ribeiro (FRC); H. Black and P. B. Gardner (TC) or N. Brynn and E. Lonsdale (PRC) v V. C. Both and A. L. G. Eastman (KBGC).

OPEN SINGLES

The following arrangements are made of outstanding third round matches which will start at 5.30 p.m.:

MONDAY, JULY 14

At HKCC: R. M. Hetherington (USRC) v A. H. Seemin (IRC).

TUESDAY, JULY 15

At KBGC: G. Mohr (FRC) v G. C. Coles and W. M. Davidson (KC).

At CCC: E. T. Poynor (HKPSA) v J. H. Goodman (FRC).

At KDC: C. Grugh (FRC) v G. Holm Choy (CCC); P. B. Gardner (TC) v J. H. Goodman (FRC).

At KCC: C. L. Lappin (KCC) v C. Pope (PRC).

TUESDAY, JULY 16

At HKCC: C. Grugh (FRC) v G. Holm Choy (CCC); P. B. Gardner (TC) v J. H. Goodman (FRC).

Winners are reminded that they are responsible for sending a copy of the signed score-card to the Honorary Secretary, Colonial Secretariat as soon as possible.

COUNTY CRICKET

Brian Statham Helps Lancs To Rout Leicestershire

London, July 7. Brian Statham, 28-year-old "forgotten" fast bowler of English cricket, swept Lancashire to an overwhelming two-day win over Le

Tennis Crisis

Wimbledon Like This Is Facing A Sorry End

BAN ON PROS MAKES IT WORST TOURNAMENT EVER

Says J. L. MANNING

It was a very wet Wimbledon. This was not the fault of the All-England Club, Lawn Tennis Association, or International Federation. But they ARE to blame for the wretched and even morbid state of world lawn tennis.

The evidence has accumulated in recent years, and last fortnight there was plenty of corroborative spectacle. Gimmicks and panties sent neurotic peeping Tomes and peering Tropics into ecstasy. The social occasion dwarfed the athletic content, and commercial opportunism corrupted the scene.

But worse than all this, irrational regulations segregate the best from second-best players. This stifles development of those who are keen and induces a Tooley-street attitude among those who couldn't care less.

Thus, in the best tradition, because of backhand silvers from Britain, last fortnight at Wimbledon petitioned for more free meals and more free tickets—and for batmen and dancing girls, for all I know—as a condition of employment.

So one way and another, although the organisers at happy little cocktail parties smugly laugh off this verdict, Wimbledon is on the way out as a top sporting spectacle unless there is continuing acceptance of the second best, sustained by a gullible public.

Their Show Never Closes

Oh, yes, now Wimbledon is still doing good business... that its show goes on... that it never closes. Nor, of course, does the Windmill, which it now closely resembles.

But the promoters skate over impending crisis. All's well so long as Mr Kramer stays away and Miss Fageres doesn't. What, then, is wrong? What is it that renders impossible the wholesale assessment of lawn tennis as a sport?

The International Lawn Tennis Federation, by deliberate and positive acts of policy, is lowering standards of play and scaring recruits. Inevitably it has failed to preserve tennis as an exclusively amateur game and has separated the best players from the rest of the field. This is putting prejudice before prestige.

Now the game is blown hot and cold. The federation has burned its future in the bonfire of nonsensical 19th-century regulations. Kramer is putting the stars in a professional re-fuge. It is an act of exorcism.

Furthermore, the Federation no longer commands any respect. It stands in relation with players as does the income tax inspector with taxpayers. All the Federation does is to present expense problems and a wordy rigmarole of regulations to players who must dodge them as a matter of course.

But Wimbledon insists on preserving this folly. In a sense it has to. Because the author of this stupid charter is Britain's L.T.A. There is the guilty hand which has written a kind of apartheid into tennis which spells moral bankruptcy, ridicule and ruin.

Racket swinging Mannequins

Did I say ridiculous? Yes, and meant it. This year's Wimbledon has exhibited the lowest standards of play in the quarter of a century I have watched the championships.

But it lacked nothing in publicity. Unwanted publicity, I am sure, but the cash is welcome. What can be more morbid than tennis players becoming racket-swinging mannequins paraded by rather oddly dressed "men" in the retrograde band?

Perhaps my orthodoxy can stand the innovation of gold-embroidered panties, but not the "sack" and a bullet skirt. When a colleague of mine saw the "sack" on court he murmured: "She looks as though she's been dressed by McDoogall's Flour." But why a bullet skirt?

What would the world think if Ulmann tripped on to Act One of The Fountain of Tears and swiped with a Dunlop racket all those rapier, murderous Tarlars?

The truth is that lawn tennis pathetically is trying to keep up appearances. May the soul of Tom Paine forgive me for quoting that Wimbledon prides "the plumage and forgets the bird is dying."

The solution is to bring back a rugged athleticism into tennis—like the Australians still do and the Americans before them—and to hit the ball on pro-

Tennis Crisis

Wimbledon Like This Is Facing A Sorry End

BAN ON PROS MAKES IT WORST TOURNAMENT EVER

Says J. L. MANNING

It was a very wet Wimbledon. This was not the fault of the All-England Club, Lawn Tennis Association, or International Federation. But they ARE to blame for the wretched and even morbid state of world lawn tennis.

The evidence has accumulated in recent years, and last fortnight there was plenty of corroborative spectacle. Gimmicks and panties sent neurotic peeping Tomes and peering Tropics into ecstasy. The social occasion dwarfed the athletic content, and commercial opportunism corrupted the scene.

But worse than all this, irrational regulations segregate the best from second-best players. This stifles development of those who are keen and induces a Tooley-street attitude among those who couldn't care less.

Thus, in the best tradition, because of backhand silvers from Britain, last fortnight at Wimbledon petitioned for more free meals and more free tickets—and for batmen and dancing girls, for all I know—as a condition of employment.

So one way and another, although the organisers at happy little cocktail parties smugly laugh off this verdict, Wimbledon is on the way out as a top sporting spectacle unless there is continuing acceptance of the second best, sustained by a gullible public.

Their Show Never Closes

Oh, yes, now Wimbledon is still doing good business... that its show goes on... that it never closes. Nor, of course, does the Windmill, which it now closely resembles.

But the promoters skate over impending crisis. All's well so long as Mr Kramer stays away and Miss Fageres doesn't. What, then, is wrong? What is it that renders impossible the wholesale assessment of lawn tennis as a sport?

The International Lawn Tennis Federation, by deliberate and positive acts of policy, is lowering standards of play and scaring recruits. Inevitably it has failed to preserve tennis as an exclusively amateur game and has separated the best players from the rest of the field. This is putting prejudice before prestige.

Now the game is blown hot and cold. The federation has burned its future in the bonfire of nonsensical 19th-century regulations. Kramer is putting the stars in a professional re-fuge. It is an act of exorcism.

Furthermore, the Federation no longer commands any respect. It stands in relation with players as does the income tax inspector with taxpayers. All the Federation does is to present expense problems and a wordy rigmarole of regulations to players who must dodge them as a matter of course.

But Wimbledon insists on preserving this folly. In a sense it has to. Because the author of this stupid charter is Britain's L.T.A. There is the guilty hand which has written a kind of apartheid into tennis which spells moral bankruptcy, ridicule and ruin.

Racket swinging Mannequins

Did I say ridiculous? Yes, and meant it. This year's Wimbledon has exhibited the lowest standards of play in the quarter of a century I have watched the championships.

But it lacked nothing in publicity. Unwanted publicity, I am sure, but the cash is welcome. What can be more morbid than tennis players becoming racket-swinging mannequins paraded by rather oddly dressed "men" in the retrograde band?

Perhaps my orthodoxy can stand the innovation of gold-embroidered panties, but not the "sack" and a bullet skirt. When a colleague of mine saw the "sack" on court he murmured: "She looks as though she's been dressed by McDoogall's Flour." But why a bullet skirt?

What would the world think if Ulmann tripped on to Act One of The Fountain of Tears and swiped with a Dunlop racket all those rapier, murderous Tarlars?

The truth is that lawn tennis pathetically is trying to keep up appearances. May the soul of Tom Paine forgive me for quoting that Wimbledon prides "the plumage and forgets the bird is dying."

The solution is to bring back a rugged athleticism into tennis—like the Australians still do and the Americans before them—and to hit the ball on pro-

Tennis Crisis

Wimbledon Like This Is Facing A Sorry End

BAN ON PROS MAKES IT WORST TOURNAMENT EVER

Says J. L. MANNING

It was a very wet Wimbledon. This was not the fault of the All-England Club, Lawn Tennis Association, or International Federation. But they ARE to blame for the wretched and even morbid state of world lawn tennis.

The evidence has accumulated in recent years, and last fortnight there was plenty of corroborative spectacle. Gimmicks and panties sent neurotic peeping Tomes and peering Tropics into ecstasy. The social occasion dwarfed the athletic content, and commercial opportunism corrupted the scene.

But worse than all this, irrational regulations segregate the best from second-best players. This stifles development of those who are keen and induces a Tooley-street attitude among those who couldn't care less.

Thus, in the best tradition, because of backhand silvers from Britain, last fortnight at Wimbledon petitioned for more free meals and more free tickets—and for batmen and dancing girls, for all I know—as a condition of employment.

So one way and another, although the organisers at happy little cocktail parties smugly laugh off this verdict, Wimbledon is on the way out as a top sporting spectacle unless there is continuing acceptance of the second best, sustained by a gullible public.

Their Show Never Closes

Oh, yes, now Wimbledon is still doing good business... that its show goes on... that it never closes. Nor, of course, does the Windmill, which it now closely resembles.

But the promoters skate over impending crisis. All's well so long as Mr Kramer stays away and Miss Fageres doesn't. What, then, is wrong? What is it that renders impossible the wholesale assessment of lawn tennis as a sport?

The International Lawn Tennis Federation, by deliberate and positive acts of policy, is lowering standards of play and scaring recruits. Inevitably it has failed to preserve tennis as an exclusively amateur game and has separated the best players from the rest of the field. This is putting prejudice before prestige.

Now the game is blown hot and cold. The federation has burned its future in the bonfire of nonsensical 19th-century regulations. Kramer is putting the stars in a professional re-fuge. It is an act of exorcism.

Furthermore, the Federation no longer commands any respect. It stands in relation with players as does the income tax inspector with taxpayers. All the Federation does is to present expense problems and a wordy rigmarole of regulations to players who must dodge them as a matter of course.

But Wimbledon insists on preserving this folly. In a sense it has to. Because the author of this stupid charter is Britain's L.T.A. There is the guilty hand which has written a kind of apartheid into tennis which spells moral bankruptcy, ridicule and ruin.

Racket swinging Mannequins

Did I say ridiculous? Yes, and meant it. This year's Wimbledon has exhibited the lowest standards of play in the quarter of a century I have watched the championships.

But it lacked nothing in publicity. Unwanted publicity, I am sure, but the cash is welcome. What can be more morbid than tennis players becoming racket-swinging mannequins paraded by rather oddly dressed "men" in the retrograde band?

Perhaps my orthodoxy can stand the innovation of gold-embroidered panties, but not the "sack" and a bullet skirt. When a colleague of mine saw the "sack" on court he murmured: "She looks as though she's been dressed by McDoogall's Flour." But why a bullet skirt?

What would the world think if Ulmann tripped on to Act One of The Fountain of Tears and swiped with a Dunlop racket all those rapier, murderous Tarlars?

The truth is that lawn tennis pathetically is trying to keep up appearances. May the soul of Tom Paine forgive me for quoting that Wimbledon prides "the plumage and forgets the bird is dying."

The solution is to bring back a rugged athleticism into tennis—like the Australians still do and the Americans before them—and to hit the ball on pro-

Tennis Crisis

Wimbledon Like This Is Facing A Sorry End

BAN ON PROS MAKES IT WORST TOURNAMENT EVER

Says J. L. MANNING

It was a very wet Wimbledon. This was not the fault of the All-England Club, Lawn Tennis Association, or International Federation. But they ARE to blame for the wretched and even morbid state of world lawn tennis.

The evidence has accumulated in recent years, and last fortnight there was plenty of corroborative spectacle. Gimmicks and panties sent neurotic peeping Tomes and peering Tropics into ecstasy. The social occasion dwarfed the athletic content, and commercial opportunism corrupted the scene.

But worse than all this, irrational regulations segregate the best from second-best players. This stifles development of those who are keen and induces a Tooley-street attitude among those who couldn't care less.

Thus, in the best tradition, because of backhand silvers from Britain, last fortnight at Wimbledon petitioned for more free meals and more free tickets—and for batmen and dancing girls, for all I know—as a condition of employment.

So one way and another, although the organisers at happy little cocktail parties smugly laugh off this verdict, Wimbledon is on the way out as a top sporting spectacle unless there is continuing acceptance of the second best, sustained by a gullible public.

Their Show Never Closes

Oh, yes, now Wimbledon is still doing good business... that its show goes on... that it never closes. Nor, of course, does the Windmill, which it now closely resembles.

But the promoters skate over impending crisis. All's well so long as Mr Kramer stays away and Miss Fageres doesn't. What, then, is wrong? What is it that renders impossible the wholesale assessment of lawn tennis as a sport?

The International Lawn Tennis Federation, by deliberate and positive acts of policy, is lowering standards of play and scaring recruits. Inevitably it has failed to preserve tennis as an exclusively amateur game and has separated the best players from the rest of the field. This is putting prejudice before prestige.

Now the game is blown hot and cold. The federation has burned its future in the bonfire of nonsensical 19th-century regulations. Kramer is putting the stars in a professional re-fuge. It is an act of exorcism.

Furthermore, the Federation no longer commands any respect. It stands in relation with players as does the income tax inspector with taxpayers. All the Federation does is to present expense problems and a wordy rigmarole of regulations to players who must dodge them as a matter of course.

But Wimbledon insists on preserving this folly. In a sense it has to. Because the author of this stupid charter is Britain's L.T.A. There is the guilty hand which has written a kind of apartheid into tennis which spells moral bankruptcy, ridicule and ruin.

Racket swinging Mannequins

Did I say ridiculous? Yes, and meant it. This year's Wimbledon has exhibited the lowest standards of play in the quarter of a century I have watched the championships.

But it lacked nothing in publicity. Unwanted publicity, I am sure, but the cash is welcome. What can be more morbid than tennis players becoming racket-swinging mannequins paraded by rather oddly dressed "men" in the retrograde band?

Perhaps my orthodoxy can stand the innovation of gold-embroidered panties, but not the "sack" and a bullet skirt. When a colleague of mine saw the "sack" on court he murmured: "She looks as though she's been dressed by McDoogall's Flour." But why a bullet skirt?

What would the world think if Ulmann tripped on to Act One of The Fountain of Tears and swiped with a Dunlop racket all those rapier, murderous Tarlars?

The truth is that lawn tennis pathetically is trying to keep up appearances. May the soul of Tom Paine forgive me for quoting that Wimbledon prides "the plumage and forgets the bird is dying."

The solution is to bring back a rugged athleticism into tennis—like the Australians still do and the Americans before them—and to hit the ball on pro-

Tennis Crisis

Wimbledon Like This Is Facing A Sorry End

BAN ON PROS MAKES IT WORST TOURNAMENT EVER

Says J. L. MANNING

It was a very wet Wimbledon. This was not the fault of the All-England Club, Lawn Tennis Association, or International Federation. But they ARE to blame for the wretched and even morbid state of world lawn tennis.

The evidence has accumulated in recent years, and last fortnight there was plenty of corroborative spectacle. Gimmicks and panties sent neurotic peeping Tomes and peering Tropics into ecstasy. The social occasion dwarfed the athletic content, and commercial opportunism corrupted the scene.

But worse than all this, irrational regulations segregate the best from second-best players. This stifles development of those who are keen and induces a Tooley-street attitude among those who couldn't care less.

Thus, in the best tradition, because of backhand silvers from Britain, last fortnight at Wimbledon petitioned for more free meals and more free tickets—and for batmen and dancing girls, for all I know—as a condition of employment.

So one way and another, although the organisers at happy little cocktail parties smugly laugh off this verdict, Wimbledon is on the way out as a top sporting spectacle unless there is continuing acceptance of the second best, sustained by a gullible public.

Their Show Never Closes

Oh, yes, now Wimbledon is still doing good business... that its show goes on... that it never closes. Nor, of course, does the Windmill, which it now closely resembles.

But the promoters skate over impending crisis. All's well so long as Mr Kramer stays away and Miss Fageres doesn't. What, then, is wrong? What is it that renders impossible the wholesale assessment of lawn tennis as a sport?

The International Lawn Tennis Federation, by deliberate and positive acts of policy, is lowering standards of play and scaring recruits. Inevitably it has failed to preserve tennis as an exclusively amateur game and has separated the best players from the rest of the field. This is putting prejudice before prestige.

Now the game is blown hot and cold. The federation has burned its future in the bonfire of nonsensical 19th-century regulations. Kramer is putting the stars in a professional re-fuge. It is an act of exorcism.

Furthermore, the Federation no longer commands any respect. It stands in relation with players as does the income tax inspector with taxpayers. All the Federation does is to present expense problems and a wordy rigmarole of regulations to players who must dodge them as a matter of course.

But Wimbledon insists on preserving this folly. In a sense it has to. Because the author of this stupid charter is Britain's L.T.A. There is the guilty hand which has written a kind of apartheid into tennis which spells moral bankruptcy, ridicule and ruin.

Racket swinging Mannequins

Did I say ridiculous? Yes, and meant it. This year's Wimbledon has exhibited the lowest standards of

CHINA MAIL

HONGKONG
PUBLISHED DAILY (AFTERNOONS)

Price: 20 cents per copy,
Saturday 30 cents.
Subscription: $5.00 per month.
Postage: China and Macau $1.00 per month; U.S.A. $1.50 per month;
and other countries $7.00 per month.

New contributions always welcome, should be addressed to the Editor, but very recommendations and advertisements will be welcome.

Telephone: 28811 (3 lines).

KOWLOON OFFICE:

Salisbury Road.

Telephone: 6415.

Classified
Advertisements
20 WORDS $4.00
for 1 DAY PREPAID

ADDITIONAL INSERTIONS
$2.00 PER DAY

10 cents PER WORD OVER 20

Births, Deaths, Marriages,
Personal $5.00 per insertion not exceeding 25 words, 25 cents each additional word.

ALTERNATE INSERTIONS
10% EXTRA

If not prepaid a booking fee of 50 cents is charged.

BIRTHS

ALEXANDER—To Ethel and Jimmy on 16 July, 1958, at Queen
Mary Hospital. A son. Both well.

MUSICAL

OUR Classical and Popular LP stocks are both varied and complete.
We have available a large quantity of records clearing at HK$10 each. Essex & Company, 750 Andrea House, Telephone 30166, 23900.

FOR SALE

OFFICE STATIONERY, Letter Heads,
Memorandum Forms, Writing Cases,
Envelopes, etc. Orders now taken
"S. C. M. Post."

STAMPS

SOMETHING EXCLUSIVE! Collections—Postage Stamps from 1 cent to $1000.00 packed in
An entirely new series South
China Morning Post Ltd., Wyndham Road, Kowloon.

To ADVERTISERS

SUNDAY POST-HERALD
Space for commercial advertising should be booked not later than noon on Wednesdays.

For the SOUTH CHINA MORNING POST and the CHINA MAIL, 48 hours before date of publication.

Special Announcements and Classified Advertisements as usual.

Grand-Daughter Of Sultan To Marry Commoner

Singapore, July 7.

A grand-daughter of the Sultan of Johore will marry into a distinguished commoner family on Thursday.

She is Tengku Azizah, daughter of the Sultan's first son, the late Tengku Abu Bakar, who died in England in 1956.

He is Inche Mohammed Yassin bin Datuk Abdul Rahman, a Sungai Besar "executive" and a brother to the Malaysian Ambassador to Washington, Doctor Ismail, and the Minister for the Interior and Justice, Inche Guleman.

In the long gallery there were picnic parties, actresses were signing autographs, and people in comic hats were carving their initials on the frames of the family portraits. In the dining hall, where couples were dancing to music relayed through loud-speakers,

The field to take the oath was the collective-farm chairman himself, followed by his family, and the other members of the

• BY • THE • WAY • by Beachcomber

Duke of Wellington, after Waterloo, said that there were rats in a number of soda-water bottles, an officer commented. "Either they must have been very small rats, or else they were very large bottles!" "Not at all," replied the duke testily, "they were very large rats and very small bottles." In this case it must have been a very large rhubarb tart and a very small fire. Or vice versa.

What more can I do?

A TANK filled with compressed air, with a rubber tube connected to it, and a tap to turn on or off, appeared as a musical instrument in an orchestra at the Festival Hall. Surely there is room now for the air-gun with a muzzle shaped like a trumpet, which fires lemon-peels at a sheet of nobelites. Also for the new way of playing the drum, by sheathing the elbows in corrugated iron and rattling them over the surface of the drum.

Take your choice

WITTING of how loud commoners can discover a pianist, a critic recalled to me the occasion when, during a wad of Bach, an Arab student cried: "Bravos for the love of Allah!" holding out his hands in supplicating gesture.

THE DANISH PRIME MINISTER, Mr Hans Christian Hansen, is due in Reykjavik tomorrow for talks with the Icelandic Government on the fishing limits issue.—China Mail Special.

FAROE ISLANDS FISHING LIMITS

Copenhagen, July 7.

Denmark would like discussions with Britain "at a suitable time" on fishing limits for the Faroe Islands, the Danish Foreign Office said to night.

An official communiqué referred to the British note published on Saturday, which said that Britain considered talks on the Faroe Islands "premature" until the Icelandic situation was settled.

The Danish Prime Minister, Mr Hans Christian Hansen, is due in Reykjavik tomorrow for talks with the Icelandic Government on the fishing limits issue.—China Mail Special.

FOR YOUR DINNER DANCE TONIGHT

Entire Change of Programme

DUO ARNEDIS
World Famous Contortionists

PELITA CORRALES
Radio & T.V. Star

CHUNG LÖO
Columbia's
Recording Star.

Music by GIANCARLO
& HIS COMBO

OPEN TILL 2 A.M.

Population Of Tokyo

Tokyo, July 7.

Greater Tokyo's population as of June 1 was 8,774,682. It was announced by the metropolitan government's statistic department today.

This was an increase of 303,040 as compared with the corresponding figure last year, the announcement said.

But still outnumbered the Tokyo population accounting for 4,639,413 as against 4,235,270 females, the statistics showed.—U.P.I.

N S U

R O I

O D H

How many words of our letters to you make the square on the left? The number of letters in each word used once only, each word must contain the large letter, and there must be at least one nine-letter word in the list. No plurals, no numbers, nouns, adjectives, articles, etc.

RODAH TARGET!

good 3 words, very good 5 words, excellent 7 words, brilliant 10 words.

MAJESTIC & ORIENTAL
"The Young Lions" starring
Marion Brando.

RITZ: "Steel Barrister". A W.M.
film starring Lee J. Cobb.

YESTERDAY'S ENTERTAINMENT: An awful movie, but a good one. The titles were more than twice what the price of admission was.

MAJESTIC & ORIENTAL
"The Young Lions" starring
Marion Brando.

RITZ: "Steel Barrister". A W.M.
film starring Lee J. Cobb.

YESTERDAY'S ENTERTAINMENT: An
awful movie, but a good one. The titles were more than twice what the price of admission was.

MAJESTIC & ORIENTAL
"The Young Lions" starring
Marion Brando.

RITZ: "Steel Barrister". A W.M.
film starring Lee J. Cobb.

USSR SEEKS NEW WAYS TO DESTROY ISLAM

ALTHOUGH the once 20 million-strong Islamic following in the Soviet Union has been reduced considerably as a result of years of Communist policy, the atheistic regime is still dissatisfied with the progress of its anti-religious propaganda and activities in the Moslem areas. Most recently, Professor Klimovich, admitted this in a recent talk over Moscow Radio, a few days after Colonel Nasser's recent Soviet visit. Klimovich said that the development of culture and the progress of science helped in "freeing" the Islamic population of the Central Asian Soviet Republics from religious beliefs.

But the process of over-coming the religious remnants was not proceeding smoothly. In particular, a revival of religious feelings had taken place during the Second World War, when the Soviet people went through hard trials and misfortunes.

More details of the survival of religion in Muslim areas have been given in a pamphlet on "cultural survivals" in the Kazakh Soviet Republic. Its author, Domnukhamed Kshabibayev, is himself a Moslem who has forsaken the faith of his ancestors, but the editor and print-render are Russians.

Strange enough, this pamphlet was passed for publication last autumn, when Soviet newspapers and radio stations, and Mr Khrushchev personally, were busily engaged in defending the Moslems of the non-Soviet Orient against the so-called Western imperialists.

The pamphlet was published by the Kazakh Academy of Sciences, but it has a popular character, and is intended for a wide circle of readers. It deals with the problem of religion in the small state of Kazakhstan which has remained "native" and is not much affected by the massive Soviet colonization of the country. Although some of the incidents described by the author happened several years ago, they are nevertheless worth mentioning since they are repeated for the first time and remain significant.

They show, in particular, that authorities cannot even rely on Kolkhoz. After the oath was taken, one mullah pleaded with the crowd to observe the faith and to carry out religious rites.

Another Soviet grievance concerns the observance by Kazakhs of Kurban-bairam, the principal Islamic religious holiday. The observance of Kurban-bairam among the villagers not only resulted in a new mode of life under Soviet rule.

As instance, the Central Asian and Kazakhstan," which is the most representative Moslem body of Russia, invalidated these accusations by issuing, in recent years, several decrees which bring Islam in line with the new mode of life under Soviet rule.

For instance, the Central Asian Chief Mufti and his advisers have ruled that it should not apply to sick people, travellers, nursing mothers, and persons engaged in heavy manual labour.

As instance, the Central

Asian and Kazakhstan," which is the most representative Moslem

body of Russia, invalidated these accusations by issuing, in recent years, several decrees which

bring Islam in line with the new mode of life under Soviet rule.

As instance, the Central

Asian and Kazakhstan," which is the most representative Moslem

body of Russia, invalidated these accusations by issuing, in recent years, several decrees which

bring Islam in line with the new mode of life under Soviet rule.

As instance, the Central

Asian and Kazakhstan," which is the most representative Moslem

body of Russia, invalidated these accusations by issuing, in recent years, several decrees which

bring Islam in line with the new mode of life under Soviet rule.

As instance, the Central

Asian and Kazakhstan," which is the most representative Moslem

body of Russia, invalidated these accusations by issuing, in recent years, several decrees which

bring Islam in line with the new mode of life under Soviet rule.

As instance, the Central

Asian and Kazakhstan," which is the most representative Moslem

body of Russia, invalidated these accusations by issuing, in recent years, several decrees which

bring Islam in line with the new mode of life under Soviet rule.

As instance, the Central

Asian and Kazakhstan," which is the most representative Moslem

body of Russia, invalidated these accusations by issuing, in recent years, several decrees which

bring Islam in line with the new mode of life under Soviet rule.

As instance, the Central

Asian and Kazakhstan," which is

AIRLINERS FLY OVER PACIFIC WHILE PILOTS HOME IN BED

Vancouver, July 7.—THE largest and fastest airliners in the world are flying over the vast Pacific between here and Tokyo without ever turning a propeller, while their pilots and navigators are at home in bed.

The pilots of British Britannia night flights are all part of a million-dollar game of make-believe now being played by Canadian Pacific Airlines' flight crews. It's a grown-up game, a serious version of the childhood pastime, "let's pretend". It consists of a series of hypothetical flights over the 4,700-mile airway linking Canada and the Orient.

These daily "dream" flights are an important feature of the intensive aircraft and route familiarisation programme now underway in preparation for the inauguration of Britannia prop-jet service on the North Pacific route, commencing on August 24.

SUPPLEMENT

This programme is designed to supplement the practical experience gained in a sequence of actual training flights. CPA pilots will log twice the legally required flying hours over the route prior to the inaugural.

The captains prefer the real thing to the hypothetical "paper flights" because they value the opportunity of thus gaining many hours of extra experience. Only three to four hours of chart time is logged on a 13-hour inquisitorial flight, but it's a welcome change to go home to bed while the aeroplane flies itself to Tokyo.

Since the cost of operating a Britannia from Vancouver to Tokyo is approximately $4,000 a mile, each "paper flight" over the 4,700-mile route might be compared to a high-stake poker game, with $20,000 in the pot.

Each detail of an actual flight enters into the game, although the scenery in the "pretend" cabin features mostly charts and computers, with not even a pretty stewardess or a fleet mignon to enliven the outlook.

DEPARTURE

A typical "ground" training flight is scheduled for departure from Tokyo at 17,00 hours. Several hours before hand, the weatherman has started assembling the "Jugen" of international weather flashes into an up-to-date and accurate picture of wind, cloud and visibility conditions along the route, just as if preparing for actual take-off the flight crew report for briefing, talk with weatherman and dispatcher, and develop a complete flight plan.

A typical westbound "paper operation" is mapped to span the 3,000 miles from Tokyo to Cold Bay in the Aleutian Islands. In a single leap, (seven hours) with Anchorage, Alaska, as an alternate stop, second stage of the paper journey is the 1,700-mile leg from Cold Bay to Vancouver, to be covered in an estimated four-and-a-half hours. With full tanks and favourable winds, however, the aircraft will vault the Pacific in a single bound.

Numerous other calculations are necessary to make the flight as realistic as possible. The imaginary aircraft will be loaded with 60,000 gallons of fuel. The ground speed (with a 30-mile-an-hour tail wind) is calculated at 430 miles per hour. Finally all plans are ready for take-off right down to such precise details as the altimeter settings and the poundage of champagne and roast turkey to be loaded into the galley. Now comes the first departure from reality. The crew goes home to bed, allowing the mythical flight to pursue its imaginary course alone.

PAPER FLIGHT

Some 24 hours later, however, the paper flight project comes to life again, to yield pertinent answers to questions concerning the performance of the Britannia in the light of such variables as distance, speed, wind and weather.

The experience so far in this chart-flying programme has borne out that expectation that British Britannia flights on the North Pacific route will set new speed records for commercial airliners. On many occasions, the aircraft will ride the jet-paced upper air currents to attain speeds up to 610 miles per hour.

—Reuter

NEW SHIPPING RUN

Singapore, July 7.—THE agents for the Japanese Mitsui Line said today that from this month the company would open a new service from Singapore to Bombay, Suez and West African ports.

The agents said two freighters would be employed on the new run.—Reuter

THE RECESSION & BRITAIN

Two Schools Of Thought On How To Deal With It

London, July 7.—After two decades of inflation and an odour of sanctity attaching to disinflationary measures, it is hard to adjust oneself to thoughts of recession and the means to combat it.

But Britain is having to reorientate itself. So far, the word, "recession," has been little heard outside economic circles. The rate of wage demands is evidence of this.

Among economists, however, the feeling—and few would describe it any more strongly—grows that Britain and Western Europe may be about to taste the recession which has been affecting the United States.

Embossed

He has embarked on the first of what he believes to be a great deal tricker. "Full employment" has become a sacred cow of politicians. Few political commentators would give tuppence for the chances of an administration who were known to have "let unemployment rise," even a little and despite a laudable and eventual 542 were higher, 382 lower. Dow-Jones closing averages were:

50 Industrial stocks ..... 481.65

15 Utilities ..... 119.53

68 stocks ..... 107.70

Corporation bonds index ..... 105.21

Closing Prices

Otto Elevation ..... $10.15

Aliden, Inc. ..... 78

Allied Chemicals ..... 24.15

Alm. Chalmers ..... 20.20

Am. Brake Shoe ..... 20.20

Am. Can. Corp. ..... 20.20

Am. Cyanamid Co. ..... 20.20

Am. Electric ..... 20.20

Am. Home Prod. ..... 20.20

Am. Metal ..... 20.20

Am. Smelting ..... 20.20

Am. Sugar Ref. Co. ..... 20.20

Am. Steel & Tube Co. ..... 20.20

Am. Tobacco Co. ..... 20.20

Amoco ..... 20.20

Am. Zinc ..... 20.20

Atlas Ctns. Mining ..... 20.20

Atlas Corp. ..... 20.20

Beneficial Finance ..... 20.20

Bendix Aviation Corp. ..... 20.20

Bentley Steel ..... 20.20

Boeing Airplane ..... 20.20

Borden (The) ..... 20.20

Brown & Root ..... 20.20

Colombian Carbon Co. ..... 20.20

Commercial Credit ..... 20.20

Continental Edible ..... 20.20

Continental Oil Co. ..... 20.20

Cookson Zellerbach ..... 20.20

Cookson Zellerbach ..... 20.20

Diamond Alkal ..... 20.20

Diamond Match Co. ..... 20.20

Douglas Aircraft ..... 20.20

Eastman Chemicals ..... 20.20

DuPont de Nemours ..... 20.20

Eastern Airline ..... 20.20

Eastern National Gas ..... 20.20

Family Finance Corp. ..... 20.20

Fireside Tyre & Rubber ..... 20.20

General Dynamics ..... 20.20

General Electric ..... 20.20

General Motors ..... 20.20

Gen. Pub. Util. ..... 20.20

Gen. Tire & Rubber ..... 20.20

Gilchrist Co. ..... 20.20

Goodrich (B. F. T.) Co. ..... 20.20

Goodyear Tyre & Rubber ..... 20.20

Gulf Oil ..... 20.20

Hayden Newport Corp. ..... 20.20

Hercules Inc. ..... 20.20

Ingersoll-Rand ..... 20.20

Inland Steel Co. ..... 20.20

International Harvester ..... 20.20

International Nickel ..... 20.20

Lever Brothers ..... 20.20

Lever Bros. ..... 20.20

Lockheed Aircraft ..... 20.20

Loewes Theatres ..... 20.20

Lowell Corp. ..... 20.20

Lucas Corp. ..... 20.20

Macmillan ..... 20.20

Mallinckrodt ..... 20.20

Marathon Oil ..... 20.20

Maytag ..... 20.20

McDonnell Aircraft ..... 20.20

Merck & Co. ..... 20.20

Merrell ..... 20.20

Metropolitan Life Ins. Co. ..... 20.20

Midland Oil ..... 20.20

Moore Corp. ..... 20.20

Motorola Inc. ..... 20.20

National Biscuit Co. ..... 20.20

National Dairy Prod. ..... 20.20

National Lead Co. ..... 20.20

National Steel Co. ..... 20.20

New York Central ..... 20.20

North American Aviation ..... 20.20

Occidental Petroleum ..... 20.20

Orbitz Corp. ..... 20.20

Parke Davis Co. ..... 20.20

Perfume Corp. ..... 20.20

Petroleum Refining Co. ..... 20.20

Philco Corp. ..... 20.20

Philip Morris ..... 20.20

Procter & Gamble Co. ..... 20.20

Radios Corp. ..... 20.20

Radio Corporation of America ..... 20.20

Standard Oil Co. ..... 20.20

Standard Oil of Ind. ..... 20.20

Standard Oil of N.J. ..... 20.20

Standard Oil Co. ..... 20.20

Do you know that with as little as 100ft. DEXION STEEL SLOTTED ANGLE costing only HK$125/- you can give your car a new lease in life? The answer is—BUILD HER A CARPORT. All you need is a spanner, a free Saturday afternoon and your children's ready assistance. It's as simple as that. Call in and let us explain.

ENGINEERING EQUIPMENT CO., LTD.
H.K. & Shanghai Bank Bldg. Tel. 27789

CHINA MAIL

Established 1849

Page 10

TUESDAY, JULY 8, 1958.

Sheaffer's
NEW BALL-POINT WITH EXCLUSIVE
STERLING SILVER TIP

BRITISH LABOUR ADVISER ARRIVES To Investigate Working Conditions Here

Miss Sheila Ogilvie, the Colonial Office labour adviser arrived in Hongkong this morning to begin an investigation into working conditions in the Colony.

At Kai Tak this morning she said her report would not necessarily be a printed one, but it may be confidential.

On her return to London she will be making a report to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr Alan Lennox-Boyd, Miss Ogilvie said.

SEIZURE OF EXPLOSIVES

A quantity of explosives and detonators was seized by the Police early yesterday morning in O'Brien Road, Wan Chai. They consisted of ten sticks of gelignite, ten detonators and 24 yards of fuse. A Chinese has been detained for questioning.

Two Injured In Traffic Accidents

A 20-year-old Chinese, Yu Kwok-sang of 289 Sai Yeung Choi Street, third floor, was injured early yesterday morning when he was knocked down by a private car in Tai Po Road, Shunshui.

Another man, Lau Sum, 30 years of age, of an unknown address, was knocked down and injured by a bus in Prince Edward Road, near the Kowloon City bus terminus yesterday. Both men are receiving treatment at Kowloon Hospital.

With Latest Amendments

$5.00 MOUNTED

$4.00 UNMOUNTED

from

South China Morning Post Ltd.
HONG KONG & KOWLOON

Printed and published by Peter Plunkett for and on behalf of South China Morning Post Limited at 1-3 Wyndham Street, City of Victoria in the Colony of Hongkong.

Mr J. H. Grieve, ADC to the Governor, Sir Robert Black, welcomes Miss S. A. Ogilvie at Kai Tak this morning. Miss Ogilvie is in Hongkong to investigate working hours and labour conditions.

—China Mail Photo.

History Repeats Itself

SHERRY CASK TO MAKE A TRIP TO HONGKONG

London, July 8.

Edinburgh wine merchants will revive an old custom by putting a 24-litre cask of high quality dry sherry on the cargo boat Ben Lomond tomorrow and sending it on a cruise to Hongkong and back. They will then bottle it and mark the labels with a description of the treatment.

In old days, the quality of sherry was not considered to be really acceptable until the wine had made a trip of half way round the world and back in a wooden cask on board a sailing ship. Unlike some wines, sherry is improved by travel. It was the custom to carry such a cask on the tea clippers that raced back to Britain with the season's crop.

from China. The Ben Lomond's cask will have a more sedate trip than the clipper ships would have given it. It will go through the Suez Canal and not around the Cape of Good Hope. The points of call will be Suez, Aden, Singapore, Bangkok and Hongkong. The time taken will be 80 days.—France-Presse.

MAIL Notices

The latest times of posting shown below are those of registered correspondence posted at G.P.O., Hongkong. The latest posting times elsewhere, which in most cases are later than in G.P.O. times can be ascertained by enquiry at the local office.

The latest posting times for air mail are generally one hour earlier than the times shown below. Particulars regarding parcel mails can be ascertained by enquiry at any post office.

TUESDAY, JULY 8
By Air

Thailand, Burma, India, Pakistan, Middle East, Africa, Great Britain, Europe, 8 p.m.
U.S.A., U.S.A., 8 p.m.
Canada, U.S.A., 8 p.m.
By Surface
Macau, 6 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 9
By Air

Korea, 8 a.m.
Formosa, Okinawa, Japan, 10 a.m.
Thailand, Malaya, Indonesia, North Borneo, 10 a.m.
Philippines, 1 p.m.
Hawaii, U.S.A., Canada, 6 p.m.
Europe, 8 p.m.
Thailand, Burma, India, 8 p.m.
Indo-China, Laos, Malaya, Indonesia, Australia & New Zealand, 9 p.m.
By Surface
China People's Republic, 9 a.m.
U.S.A., 9 a.m.
Canada, 9 a.m.
Cambodia, 11 a.m.
Mexico, 1 p.m.
India, Poona (Mysore via Bombay, P. India via Karachi), 1 p.m.
Burma, India, 2 p.m.
Mexico, 6 p.m.

THURSDAY, JULY 10
By Air

Japan, 8 a.m.
China, People's Republic, 8.20 a.m.
Malaya, Indonesia, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, Malaya, Middle Africa, Great Britain & Europe, 2 p.m.
Philippines, 3 p.m.
U.S.A., 6 p.m.
By Surface
China, People's Republic, 9 a.m.
U.S.A., 10 a.m.
Africa, 8 a.m.
Brazil, Argentina, Paraguay, 11 p.m.
India, Poona (Mysore via Bombay, P. India via Karachi), 1 p.m.
Burma, India, 2 p.m.
Mexico, 6 p.m.

FRIDAY, JULY 11
By Air

Japan, 8 a.m.
China, People's Republic, 8.20 a.m.
Malaya, Indonesia, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, Malaya, Middle Africa, Great Britain & Europe, 2 p.m.
Philippines, 3 p.m.
U.S.A., 6 p.m.
By Surface
China, People's Republic, 9 a.m.
U.S.A., 10 a.m.
Africa, 8 a.m.
Brazil, Argentina, Paraguay, 11 p.m.
India, Poona (Mysore via Bombay, P. India via Karachi), 1 p.m.
Burma, India, 2 p.m.
Japan, U.S.A., 2 p.m.
Mexico, 6 p.m.

SATURDAY, JULY 12
By Air

Japan, 8 a.m.
China, People's Republic, 8.20 a.m.
Malaya, Indonesia, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, Malaya, Middle Africa, Great Britain & Europe, 2 p.m.
Philippines, 3 p.m.
U.S.A., 6 p.m.
By Surface
China, People's Republic, 9 a.m.
U.S.A., 10 a.m.
Africa, 8 a.m.
Brazil, Argentina, Paraguay, 11 p.m.
India, Poona (Mysore via Bombay, P. India via Karachi), 1 p.m.
Burma, India, 2 p.m.
Japan, U.S.A., 2 p.m.
Mexico, 6 p.m.

China Switches Big Orders From Japan To Britain

London, July 8.

As a result of the breach in trade relations with Japan, China has switched her orders for steel products to Britain and other West European countries.

The China Trade and Economic News Letter, published in London by the British Council for the Promotion of International Trade, reports this today.

One after another, China has passed orders in recent weeks to the British firms Stewarts and Lloyds and Tube Investments for steel tubes, to Guest Keen and Nettlefolds for silicon steel sheet and cold rolled strip, to the Sheet Company of Wales for tin-plate and to Richard Thomas and Baldwin for silicon steel sheet. And larger orders have been placed on the continent of Europe.

The importance of this development can be judged from the fact that before the suspension of trade relations China was to have bought from Japan steel products to a total value of £10 million in 1958 and £18 million in 1959.

There is no reason why West European firms should not now get most, if not all, of this business in 1958 and 1959, the News Letter adds.

China's purchases are not limited to steel; she is also interested in copper wire, textile machinery, viscose filament yarn, as well as in equipment for the plastics industry.

Following the recent revival in Chinese purchases of wool from Bradford, the News Letter considers it probable that British exports of tops to that country will have reached a record figure in the first half of this year.

In addition, Britain has considerably increased her sales to China of agricultural tractors; the new Massey-Ferguson contract alone being worth over £1,000,000.

At the same time, Britain is showing a broadening interest in Chinese products. British purchases to date include cotton products, soya beans, rosin turpentine, furs and carpets and several noteworthy additions running into large figures, such as canned meat and poultry products.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he let go of deceased and ran out of the shop into the street.

Witness said he